

Summary Notation: ArchiMate 3 Technology Advanced

Notation based on The Open Group ArchiMate 3.0 Specification

A Technology Function represents behaviour performed by a node, system software or device.

System software is assigned to perform a technology function.

A Technology Service represents behaviour offered to the application layer.

System software realizes (implements) a technology service which serves an application component.

A Technology Interface provides a point of access to services.

System software provides a technology interface which serves an application component.

An artifact documents the physical manifestation of data.

System software is assigned to an artifact deployed on the software.

An artifact realizes a data object.